

Can You Guess the End of Mysterious Ways?

Written by Bryan Rountree

Can You Guess the End of Mysterious Ways?

You fans think you're so smart you can guess the end of one of our mini-series? What if predicting the conclusion of one of our new series won you a years worth of every Top Cow comic to hit stores?

Check it out: Crazy serial killers often claim to be doing God's work, but what if one really was? MYSTERIOUS WAYS, a six-issue miniseries from Image Comics' Top Cow Productions proposes an answer to that disturbing question. This July, video game industry titan Jason Rubin (The Iron Saint) joins forces with artist Tyler Kirkham (Green Lantern Corps, Amazing Spider-Man) to introduce this dark and action-packed thriller that will have you questioning everything you believe.

MYSTERIOUS WAYS takes a number of archetypes from classic crime suspense stories and turns them on their head over the course of the story. Sam, the down on his luck, alcoholic ex-cop is not what he seems. Neither is the sharp-tongued, gothic bar waitress. Certainly not the by-the-book FBI agent with a perfect arrest record!

Not only will MYSTERIOUS WAYS provide a disturbing new story for horror fans, but beginning the last week of April, readers will also be asked to predict how MYSTERIOUS WAYS plays out, and most importantly how it ends, with a contest in which the reader that submits the closest description of the storyline through the Website by the day the second issue hits stores will receive every Top Cow comic released over the next 12 months, absolutely free! Participants must submit their entries through Top Cow's new community Website, The Barn. More info on how to win

HERE

. The winner will be announced after the last issue ships.

If you wanna cheat a little, go ahead and buy the first issue (as collected in the FIVE DOLLAR Top Cow First Look trade paperback) from theTopCowStore today!